JavaScript

JavaScript is one of the most popular programming languages in the world.

It helps to build interactive web pages, games, and applications.

With the introduction of ECMAScript 2015, JavaScript has really become a powerful language.

And now with the help of Node.js, it is possible to build web applications with JavaScript both client-side and server-side.